CHICAGO, Aug. 14.-The end of one of the most remarkable legal fights in the history of corporation litigation came to-day when the property of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding mnany, commonly known as the Whiskey Trust, was sold at auction on the Court House steps in this city at 11:30 this morning. The sale proved a mere formality, as there were no other bidders besides the Reorganization Com-mittee, whose bid of $9,800,000, incorporated in the judicial decree of sale, was accepted. Gen. John McNulta, the receiver of the trust.

began the sale at 10 o'clock.

At the conclusion of the reading of the decree Levy Mayer of counsel for the Reorganization Committee renewed the bid contained in the decree of $0.000,000 on condition that the remillion dollars as provided in the decree, and decree are carried out to the letter. He then nanded tien. McNulta a certified check for $50,000 and the property was declared sold to the Reorganization Committee for the sum

The property sold does not include all that owned by the old Trust. Seventeen distilleries, the cream of the lot, were beleeted by the Reorganization Committee for purchase, besides the office building at Peoria. The distilleries pur-chased to-day were the Shufeldt of Chicago, the Star and Crescent distilleries of Tazewell county, Ill.; the Central of St. Louis, the St. Paul, the Riverdale of Chicago, the Hamburg, Tazewell county, Ill.: the Northern of Peoria,

Tazewell county, IiI.; the Northern of Peoria, the Manbatian of Peoria, the Monarch of Peoria, the Great Western, Woolner, and Peoria distilleries, all of Peoria; the Willow Spring Distillery of Omaha, the Consolidated of Cincinnati, the Maddux-Hobart of Hamilton county, Ky.; the Wabash of Terre Haute, and Latonia of Cincinnati.

The property is sold on condition that it shall be subject to the trust lien to secure the myment of whatever sums shall be adjudicated to be due to the holders of a certain issue of $1,000,000 of bonds, secured by a trust deed to the Central Trust Company of New York, dated June 1, 1893, in a suit instituted by Gen. McNulta against Joseph B. Greenhut and others, which suit seeks to set aside the issue of $1,000,000 of bonds. The trust lien also secures the payment of such relate vouchers as the court shall finally order to be paid.

The Heorganization Committee must pay in cash only such proportion of the sum of $6,800,000 as the total number of shares of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Company not owned 000 as the total number of shares of the Dis-tiling and Cattle Feeding Company not owned or controlled by the Reorganization Committee bears to the total capital stock of the company, but it must pay the balance of the purchase price from time to time as required by any court having jurisdiction, to the extent that it shall be necessary to enable the receiver to pay, in addition to the cost of administration, such of the claims filed as shall, upon final hearing, be ordered paid by the court.

the claims filed as shall, upon final hearing, be ordered paid by the court.

The figfit which ended to-day with the sale of the trust property began Jan. 28, when Greenhut had himself appointed receiver, only to be summarily ousted by the court a few days afterward. During the whole of this time the Reorganization Committee has never been defeated in court, despite the bitter fight that was made by the opposing element of the Trust under the leadership of Greenhut and Morris. The new company, which will be called the American Spirits Manufacturing Company, was incorporated under the laws of Illinois. The directors are elected, and the names will probably be made public to-morrow.

CABLE ROAD WANTS TO RITERD. Third Avenue Files Application for Three Miles of New Road.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen yesterday applications were filed by the Third Avenue Railroad Company to build and operate the following extensions by any motive power but steam that can be lawfully used: From Amsterdam avenue and 145th street but steam that can be lawfully used:

From Amsterdam avenue and 145th street east through 145th street to the Harlem River and west through 145th street to the Boulevard; also from Third avenue and East Ninety-third street through Ninety-third street to Avenue A and through Avenue A to Ninety-second street; from Third avenue and East Ninety-ninth street to East River; from Third avenue and East Ninety-sixth street to Madison avenue, to Ninety-seventh street, across Ninety-seventh on the Ninety-seventh street transverse road and west to Columbus avenue, thence south to Ninety-seventh street transverse road and west to Columbus avenue, thence south to Ninety-seventh of the United Street transverse road and west to the Hudson River.

The lotal extensions asked for amount to three and 25-100 miles. As the Metropolitan Traction Company has an application pending for a franchise for 145th street, and as the Third Avenue Company, if their application is granted, will use the tracks of the Columbus avenue cable between Ninety-seventh and Ninety-sixth streets, these applications are likely to complicate further the contest now going on for a franchise on the Kingsbridge road. The petition was referred to the Rallriad Committee, and a public hearing was set for Sept. 13.
